Peter Reinoehl
(February 23, 1831 - May 10, 1913)

Dedicated to the memory of my mother-in-law,
Edna Mae Reinoehl (Mrs. Cloud L. Cray)
(October 2, 1895 - November 13, 1957).

She was a wonderful lady who some of us had the pleasure of knowing for much too short a time!

She and many of her grandchildren never had the opportunity of knowing each other. She would have loved and cherished everyone of them just as much as she did the ones she knew.

Preface

While preparing a book on the genealogy of the Crays/Cray families of Pennsylvania and the Carolinas in the early 1990's, I reached the point of writing about the family of Edna Mae Reinoehl, the wife of Cloud L. Cray, my parents-in-law. I had planned initially to include her Reinoehl family ancestry as an appendix to that book. Much of the source material was well presented in an unpublished work in 1950 by Charles Reinoehl, a professor at the University of Arkansas when he retired. Charles was Peter Reinoehl's oldest brother David's grandson. Charles's work was expanded to include additional material on Peter Reinoehl's descendants by Vida Blanche McGiffin, a granddaughter of Peter Reinoehl. In 1976 these works were updated and consolidated by a committee formed at the 1975 Reinoehl Family Reunion. The committee, consisting of Judy (Reinoehl) Ditmars, Sue Parr, Kay Reinoehl, and Carol (Reinoehl) Smith, was assisted by many relatives. A check with Paul Eugene Reinoehl of 2115 County Road 4, Ashley, Indiana, who is a principal organizer of periodic Reinoehl Family Reunions, disclosed the fact that his nieces had added information since the 1976 photocopied work, but the work needed to be further updated and remained to be published in a more formal form to be used by those interested parties outside of the immediate family. I offered to do a draft for his review, and then publish the results as a book. Paul Reinoehl, in addition to correcting many of my stupid errors of fact, provided original photographs and gathered additional information by visiting, on several occasions, the Fairfield Cemetery in Fairfield Township, DeKalb County, Indiana. He also contacted several relatives who live out of the state of Indiana for current information pertaining primarily to deaths. In short, this book is as up-to-date, and correct, as both he and I, assisted by other Reinoehl relatives, could possibly make it. In spite of our best efforts, there are probably errors of fact as well as omissions, especially concerning additional descendants, that we hope will be pointed out to both of us.

The more I searched for additional genealogical material on the Reinoehl family, the more information I found that it supplemented, and in some cases refuted, material previously thought to be true by earlier researchers. The hired services of Mr. Kory L. Meyerink, AG, of Salt Lake City to search the Archive Section of the Church of Latter-day Saints (L.D.S.) in Salt Lake City, Utah, produced a series of Family Group Records submitted in the late 1940's to the late 1950's by Shirley Nadine Peterson Dunn, then of Ft. Collins, Colorado, and currently of Logan, Utah. She cited as one of her sources a Dr. Friedrich Reinoehl of Zaberfeld, Germany. These Family Group Records and a section on Peter's Ancestry, which trace Peter Reinoehl's lineage back to Martin Reinnel who was born about 1520 in Germany, are included at the back of this book. They should serve as a great help to other Reinoehl family members who are not descended from Peter Reinoehl, who was the youngest son of a large family. Many of these family members still live in Pennsylvania, near Lebanon in present day Lebanon County, where the Reinoehl emigrant ancestor, Georg Henrich Reinöhl, lived and died after his emigration from Bissingen, Württemberg, Germany in 1749 (Bissingen is southeast of Stuttgart - See map, page iv).

In 1995 Jennie King Phillips revised and updated Ancestors and Descendants of Solomon and Martha Reinoehl by Relatives and Kinsfolk and Their Son Charles Reinoehl 1950 that was previously mentioned. I was unaware of and did not use this revised book. It may still be available from her at 11833 Eagle View Court, Ft. Wayne, Indiana 46408.

I am indebted to my brother-in-law, Richard B. Cray, the son of Edna Mae Reinoehl Cray, for taking the time to editorially correct my mistakes. He is indeed a master at that kind of work, and any typing errors that may have occurred are caused because I made last minute additions and inserts after his review of the draft.

Family history never stops, and I have tried to update this work with the life and death events that have occurred in the course of time since I started to prepare it several years ago. The occasion of the 31 March 1998 birthday celebration in Ft. Wayne, Indiana, of aunt (#31) Bessie Irene Reinoehl's 100th birthday prompted the printing of a few copies for immediate release to family members. This memorable event offered the opportunity to meet many of her relatives who are shown in the Fourth Generation that I had know before only by name. The event allowed the exchange of information between relatives and enabled me to correct and update this book before final publication. Paul Eugene Reinoehl was also given a draft copy and he updated much of the data, generously loaned me copies of other Reinoehl books, and obtained more vital records.

The following comments about the mechanics of the preparation of this book are offered to those people so interested. The basic genealogical data is maintained in a home computer Genealogical Management System called Personal Ancestral File™(PAF) which was written, and is sold by, the Church of Latter-day Saints in Salt Lake City for a very reasonable price ($35). A PAF utility program called Family Perfect™by Steven M. Cannon of Salt Lake City was then used with WordPerfect for Windows™ to extract and generate the basic genealogical text about Peter Reinoehl's descendants in the Modified Register System format, preferred by most genealogical societies, as well as the Family Group Records at the end of the book. The program also tags each occurrence of the names of individuals for later indexing. A word processor (WordPerfect ™) was then used to format the text, establish the font, check for spelling errors, and automatically generate the Table of Contents and Index. This latter task has always been a very tedious and time consuming chore. The insertion of additional last minute names unfortunately requires the regeneration of the ID numbers and Index, and a software program, Gen-Book™, Version 7.0 for DOS, was used to rapidly accomplish this task. The old photos were scanned and improved with Adobe's Photoshop™ before they were embedded in the document. The final text was printed in camera ready form at 600x600 dots per inch (dpi) on a LaserJet 4M printer and printed on a high speed copier. The photo pages of individuals had been pre-printed separately and the pages inserted by hand where appropriate.

Every effort has been made to provide complete footnotes so that readers can easily trace the source of information used in the preparation of this book without the use of an extensive bibliography that would otherwise have been necessary. The author may be contacted for additions and corrections at the address given below.

Copies of this book were taken to the Reinoehl Family Reunion in Garrett, Indiana, on Sunday, June 28th 1998. Copies of this book may still be available from the author for the cost of printing, shipping and handling.

Peter Reinoehl's Lineage

Peter Reinoehl's lineage has been traced back to Martin Reinnel who was born about 1520, probably in, or near, Oscnitz, Sachsen (Saxony), Germany, as that is where Martin's son, Wolfgang Reinöhl, or Reinoehl without the umlaut (ö), was born on 15 October 1539 (See Reinoehl Family Group Sheets). Wolfgang Reinöhl died in Plochingen, Neckar, Württemberg, Germany, on 29 January 1608/1609.[1] Württemberg, where Wolfgang Reinöhl's descendants lived, is a region in southwest Germany, between Baden and Bavaria. The major city is Stuttgart. Württemberg was once: a duchy; a kingdom (1813-1918); and then a state (1918-1945). In 1951 it became part of Baden-Württemberg state of the Federal Republic of Germany.

Peter's Reinoehl paternal lineage is: John "Michael"[9]; John Georg Henrich[8]; Georg Henrich[7] (George Henry, the emigrant ancestor) Reinöhl; Hans Georg[6]; Johann Konrad[5]; Johann Konrad[4]; Daniel[3]; Wolfgang[2] Reinöhl; and Martin[1] Reinnel.[2] See the Ancestry of Peter Reinoehl section at the end of the book which also traces the ancestry of Eva Catherine Gruenzweig back to Conrad Gruenzweig whose name appeared in military draft records as early as 1516 in Gerhausen, Württemberg, Germany..

All, except for Martin, had the Reinöhl last name. The fact that the Reinöhl name existed from at least 1539 refutes statements made that it was their emigrant ancestor, George Henry Reinoehl, who was the producer of edible oils, from which he supposedly took the name, REIN meaning pure, and ÖHL, meaning oil. In America, the German letter 'o' with an umlaut (ö) was changed to 'oe' to retain the proper sound. The Family Group Records of the families of Peter Reinoehl's ancestors are included at the end of this Part.

One should note that prior to the emigrant ancestor, all of Peter Reinoehl's known ancestors were born and died in the duchy of Württemberg, Germany. This refutes the false statement in Vida Blanche McGiffin's work, that "... I had authentic records of the early history of the Reinoehl family as French Huguenots and as Lutheran converts in Germany, from which they decided to move because their children (and grandchildren ?) were intermarrying with the Germans. ..." as well as the incorrect place of birth of Alsace-Lorraine, France in Charlie Reinoehl's revised book. The source of this 'tradition' was probably the footnote at the bottom of page 52 of a book written in 1898: George Henry Reinoehl emigrated with his wife a Swabian, from Wurttemberg (sic), Germany, arriving at Philadelphia November 9, 1749, on the ship 'Good Intent.' He was a French Hugenot (sic), having fled

1. Plochingen is on the Neckar River, about ten miles SE of Stuttgart. It is only eighty miles from Kitzingen, where the author and his family lived from 1968-1970! Ocsnitz has not been located on a modern large scale map. It was perhaps Oelsnitz, Saxony, about 10 miles northeast of Zwicau; or, Oelsnitz, Saxony, 10 miles south of Plauen, both in what used to be formerly the Democratic Republic of Germany (sic, East Germany).

2. Family Group Records submitted from the late 1940's to the late 1950's by Shirley Nadine Peterson Dunn, of Ft. Collins, Colorado, to The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints in Salt Lake City, Utah. She was a cousin of Peter Reinoehl. Shirley's lineage goes back to Henry Reinoehl, the father of Joseph Reinoehl (2 March. 1821 in Berks Co., Pennsylvania, - June 1889), m. Sarah Rogers. Their son Jonathan Reinoehl m. Catherine Heffelfinger. Their son, Franklin Pierce Reinoehl m. Ruth Bridge. The records were accessed from the Archive Record Section of that church for the author in 1987 by Mr. Kory L. Meyerink, AG, 2219 East 3020 South, Salt Lake City, Utah 84109. Mrs. Dunn cited Dr. Friedrich Reinoehl of Zaberfeld, Germany, as one of her primary sources. Zaberfeld is in the Schwarzwald (Black Forest), about 20 miles NW of Stuttgart and 15 miles SW of Heilbronn.

from France upon the revocation of the Edict of Nantes. ...[3] The Reinoehls not only historically were born in and married Germans in Germany, but they continued to marry people of German extraction when they lived in America! While in Germany, as well as in America, they were Lutherans, not Calvinists or Presbyterians as were the French Huguenots! They were not the victims of religious persecution while in Germany, as many believed and some have written. Many of the Reinoehl's did, however, intermarry in America with the so called "Scotch-Irish."

Starting in the latter part of the 1600's, cheap land in the Province of Pennsylvania was being offered by William Penn and his followers to the "Scotch-Irish" and Germans. The Germans who first emigrated into the Province of Pennsylvania came chiefly for conscience's sake; those who arrived at a later period came to improve their temporal, as well as spiritual condition. Not many names of the first German emigrants, except a few of the German Quakers who came with William Penn, are known. In the years 1708 to 1720 thousands of Germans emigrated who were known as Palatines, because they came from the Palatinate region. Many of these had been forced to flee from their homes to other parts of Europe. Many had gone first to England at the invitation of Queen Anne, who transported many to the English settlements in America. Among the Germans emigrants were Mennonites, Dunkards (German Baptists), German Reformed (Calvinists), and Lutherans. From 1720 to 1725, the number of Germans from the Palatinate, Württemberg, Darmstadt, etc., increased. They settled principally in what is now Montgomery, Berks, and Lancaster counties. These latter emigrants were accompanied by ministers of the gospel, and some schoolmasters. Among the Lutheran ministers were the Revs. Falckner, Hinckel, and John Casper Stoever, Jr.. From the period 1725 to 1740, there was a great influx of Germans of various religious groups: German Reformed (Calvinist), Lutheran, Catholics, Moravians, and Swenckfelders. From 1740 to 1752, German emigrants came in by the hundreds. In the autumn of 1749, not less than twenty vessels, with German passengers numbering twelve thousand, including Peter's immigrant ancestor, arrived in Philadelphia. Between 1750 to 1752 the number was not much less.[4] These immigrants were derogatorily referred to as a group by the English immigrants as, 'Pennsylvania Dutch'; but ethnically and culturally they were German. The term Dutch was a mispronounced Deutsche or Deitsch, the German or dialect words meaning German.

Among those who emigrated between 1740 and 1752, were many who lamented that they had left home for the Province of Pennsylvania. At that time there was a class of Germans who had resided there who were known as Neulaender. They went to Germany and prevailed upon their countrymen to sacrifice their property and go to America. Some, who did not have the means to pay the fare across the Atlantic, were, upon arrival in Philadelphia, sold at public auction to serve for a series of years to pay their passage. These people were termed Redemptioners. Many who sacrificed everything to come found their conditions had not improved. On the other hand, others by frugality and industry became some of the most wealthy and influential citizens in the Commonwealth.

3. Theodore E. Schmauk, Old Salem in Lebanon - A History of the Congregation and Town (Lebanon, Penn.: Published For the Congregation in Commemoration of the Celebration of the Centennial of the Church Building, 1898), p. 52. The Edict of Nantes was a law promulgated on 13 April 1598 that granted a large measure of religious liberty to French Protestant subjects, the Huguenots. On 18 October 1685 King Louis XIV revoked the Edict of Nantes and deprived the French Protestants of all religious and civil liberties. Within a few years, NOT sixty, more than 400,000 Huguenots emigrated to England, Prussia, Holland, and America. In 1715 Louis XIV announced that he had ended all exercise of Protestant religion in France. That same year a conference at Nimes was devoted to restoring the Protestant church. Persecution of Huguenots was revived from 1745 to 1754, but French public opinion turned against such persecutions. [Encyclopaedia Britanica CD-ROM 98].

4. I. Daniel Rupp, History of the Counties of Berks and Lebanon:... (Lancaster: G. Hills Proprietor, 1844), pp. 90-93.

Gerber's research into the Württemberg emigration reveals that the greatest emigration to America came in the years 1749-1754, and they came by the hundreds. They came both as a result of the unsettled political conditions in Europe, and because of unfavorable economic conditions in Württemberg, including: 1. a series of crop failures in the vineyards along with severe damage done to what crops there were by wild game; 2. the revocation of former grazing and wool-gathering rights in the ducal forests, with severe penalties for trespassing; 3. the oppressive and annoying compulsory service to overlords, a hangover from medieval feudalism; and 4. mounting taxes, which rested on the propertied classes alone, with the result that many sold their lands to emigrate.[5]

Quoting from the Emigrants From Württemberg section of Pennsylvania German Immigrants 1709-1786, "Religious reasons as such do not enter into this picture. Württemberg was Lutheran, and most of our present emigrants were members of that church. Several of the families listed in Gerber became Moravians... Some of them became Rappites, who separated from the Württemberg Lutheran state church, and under the leadership of Johann Georg Rapp (1770-1847) settled in Western Pennsylvania in 1803, establishing colonies at Harmony and Economy in Pennsylvania and New Harmony in Indiana."

Peter's great grandfather, believed by many to be the first emigrant Reinoehl to America who remained, was Georg Henrich Reinöhl, who was born on 31 July 1713 in Bissingen, Württemberg, Germany.[6] Georg Henrich married Eva Catharine Gruenzweig, "a Swabian lady, daughter of a schoolmaster"[7] (Schulmeisterstocher) on 9 February 1740 in Neidlingen, Württemberg, Germany.[8]

6. FGR from Shirley Nadine Peterson Dunn. According to Vida Blanche McGiffin from her research done in the 1920's, his birth location was Alsace Lorraine, France, instead of Germany, and he was a French Huguenot and a Calvinist. If his ancestors were Huguenots, they did not live very long in France before returning to Württemberg, Germany. The Bissingen referred to was at first thought to be one of three possibilities: Bissingen, part of the modern-day Bietigheim-Bissingen, about 15 miles north of Stuttgart on the Neckar River; Bissingen an der Teck, about 20 miles southeast of Stuttgart, near Plochingen; or Bisingen (Zollernalbkreis) on the headwaters of the Donau River, about 32 miles southwest of Stuttgart and only about 12 miles from Tübingen. This latter location is closer to Simmersfeld and Empfingen, also mentioned in the Reinoehl Family Group Records at the end of this part. According to Shirley Nadine Peterson Dunn in a telephone call with the author on 5 June 1994, the correct Bissingen is the second one, 30 miles southeast of Stuttgart. She stated that some members of the Reinoehl family had previously emigrated to America, but returned to Germany.

7. Charles W. Reinoehl, Vida B. McGiffin, and a committee, Genealogy and Family Records of the American Ancestors and Descendants of Peter Reinoehl, June 1976, p. 1. Charles W. Reinoehl was a professor at the University of Arkansas. He was a grandson of Peter's oldest brother, David Reinoehl. Swabian, or in German Schwaben, is a region and medieval country in Southwest Germany, not a high social rank, as was implied. It is an area to the east of Stuttgart which chiefly comprises modern Baden-Württemberg and Western Bavaria. The name Gruenzweig should in German be spelled Grünzweig (= "green branch" or twig in English).

8. Don Yoder ed., Pennsylvania German Immigrants 1709-1786 Lists Consolidated from Yearbooks of The Pennsylvania German Folklore Society. (Baltimore: Genealogical Publishing Co., 1980), pp. 102-103, citing Adolf Gerber, Beiträge zur Auswanderung nach Amerika im 18. Jahrhundret aus Altwürttembergischen Kirchenbüchern (Stuttgart: J. F. Steinkopf, N.D.), 26-27 [The Adolf Gerber Lists]. [Henceforth, Immigrants]. Neidlingen is shown on the map on p. iv. It is a small town 4 miles SE of Bissingen, and both are close to Kirchheim. Both are also close to Neckartenzlingen, which is 15 miles south of Stuttgart on the Neckar River.

The Gruenzweig family is still being researched by Dr. Irving Dunn using recently acquired genealogical books and references that are in German. His research indicates that Eva was the daughter of Tobias Gruenzweig (born 23 August 1680 in Blauberen, Württemberg, Germany - died after 1764) who was the son of George A. Gruenzweig of that city (born 1637 - died 1 August 1706). Tobias married Eva Saesslin (Soflin/Soslin) on 5 May 1711. Eva was born 27 November 1688 in Blauberen - died 28 December 1764 in Neidlingen, Württemberg, Germany, the daughter of Sir Albrecht Saesslin (Soflin/Soslin) and his wife, Anna Maria Straub.[9] See the section on the ancestry of Peter Reinoehl in this book.

Georg Henrich Reinöhl and his wife emigrated to Pennsylvania with their eldest son, Georg Henrich, æ 7, (born 18 December 1741 in Neidlingen, Württemberg - died 25 February 1824 in Lebanon, Lebanon Co., Pennsylvania) and possibly daughter, Anna Margaretha (b. 9 January 1747)[10], from Württemberg, Germany. They traveled by river boat, probably boarding at Neckartenzlingen, down the Neckar and Rhine Rivers, to Rotterdam, Holland, from where they departed by ship. They sailed on the English ship, a snow named Good Intent, with Benjamin Boswell, Master. The vessel stopped at Cowes, Isle of Wight (on the Solent), England, before setting sail across the Atlantic for America. After many weeks at sea, the Good Intent arrived in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, on 9 November 1749 with 76 passengers.[11] The Reinöhl family traveled in company with several families all of whom came from the same parish of Neckartenzlingen, Württemberg, Germany: (1) Hans Jerg Kuntzelman (Conzelmann) from Truchtelfingen with wife Margaretha (Rausenberger), a cobbler's daughter (Schusterstochter), married in 1737, and children: (a) a son born before their marriage; (b) Catharine Barbara; (c) Johann Georg Kuntzelman (Conzelmann); (2) Matheas Plenninger [Plieninger (Blienger), a Miller's apprentice (Müllerknecht) from Urach. Wife Catharine (Hohlscheit) m. 10-7-1748]; (3) Johannes Hemminger (Heinninger), Jr., a farmer (Bauer) with wife, Margaretha, and children: Johannes (b. 2-15-1728); Georg Friedrich (b. 10-4-1731); Sophia, (b. 12-19-1742); and, Andreas Hemminger (Heinninger) (b. 11-30-1747); and either a son, brother, or father, Joseph Hemminger (Heinninger); (4) Michael Jung, a cowherder and shepherd (Kulhirt u. Schäfer) with wife Catharine and a child who died en route. Another family from Neckartenzlingen emigrated earlier the same year, arriving in Philadelphia, on 7 October 1749 aboard the Leslie: Christopher Letsch, a Stocking weaver (Strumpfweber), the son of a deceased tailor (Schneider), Johann Michael Letsch, and his wife, Anna Maria, widow of the town-shepherd (Fleckenschäfer) Hess, and their child, Johann Georg Letsch.[12]

There was an enquiry in Sower's Newspaper on 1 March 1751, "Georg Heinrich Steinoehl (Reinoehl), from Württemberg, a smith in Conestoga [Lancaster County. Pennsylvania], with Christan Weber, near Jacob Beyerle's mill, inquires for his brother-in-law, Gottfried (Gruenzweig), a wool comber." Gottfried Gruenzweig (b. 1731 in Neidlingen, Württemberg, Germany - d. 1822 in Pennsylvania) married Maria Pettit (d. June 1818) and settled in Lower Towamensing Twp., Carbon Co., Pennsylvania, later moving to Chestnut Hill Twp., Northampton Co., Pennsylvania.

10. According to a FGR submitted by Shirley Dunn, Anna Margaretha was born in Neidlingen, Germany, but the date and place of her death are unknown. Georg Henrich and Eva Reinoehl had three other daughters who were born in Neidlingen, but died as infants (See FGR).

They had ten children all born between 1755 and 1782 in Lower Towamensing Twp.[13].

Georg Henrich Reinoehl, a smith, was supposedly naturalized a subject of King George of Great Britain on 24 September 1761.[14] The Reinoehl family moved from the famous 'prairie schooner' wagon manufacturing town of Conestoga, Lancaster (now in Chester) Co., Pennsylvania, and settled in Lebanon Twp., in Lancaster Co. (later in 1785 Dauphin Co., and from 16 February 1813 to the present Lebanon Co.), Pennsylvania, where a Henry Reinoehl appears on the tax list for 1771; and Henry Reinoehl, Sr., George Henry, and Conrad Reinoehl appeared in 1782.[15]

He owned a 100 acre farm outside of the Borough of Lebanon. He and his family were members of the German Evangelical Lutheran Church.[16] In 1789 a traveler described the religious situation in Dauphin and Lebanon counties as follows: ... "I think about two-thirds of the inhabitants are German or of that extraction. The principal religious denominations among them are Lutheran and Calvinists, perhaps about an equal number of each –there is also a small Congregation of Moravians who have a place of worship about a mile from the Town of Lebanon [Hebron]. There are a good number of Mennonites and a small Society of Roman Catholicks [sic] who have a Chapel in Lebanon."[17]

Records of the Historical Society of Pennsylvania in the Free Library of Philadelphia list seven sons of George Henry and Eva Reinoehl, but only four are known.[18] On 13 January 1765, George Heinrich Reinoehl and his wife were sponsors at the baptism in Lebanon by Rev. John Caspar Stoever of twins, Georg Heinrich Zieger and Anna Maria Elisabeth Zieger, the children of Jacob Zieger, who was perhaps a son-in-law and husband of his daughter, Anna Margaretha

14. Reinoehl Family History. His naturalization has not been found in the Pennsylvania Archives. On 24 September, 1760, not 1761, a Georg Christ'r Reinhold was naturalized, with the Sacrament taken on 5 July 1761 [Excepts from Pennsylvania Archives, Series 2, Vol. II, (Baltimore: Genealogical Publishing Co., 1967), p. 53]. The naturalization certificate of George Henry Reinoehl on 24 September 1761 that has been handed down in the Reinoehl family for years was probably that of his son, Georg Heinrick Reinoehl, born 18 December 1741, in Neidlingen, Württemberg, Germany, upon reaching his maturity. As an adult the immigrant George Henry Reinoehl would have had to swear allegiance to the Crown in Cowes, England, or upon landing in Pennsylvania.

"All the Reinoehls were of the Lutheran Faith & Elders of the Church from the very first according to the Church Records." [Note that the County Recorder was Miss Jane Reinoehl. It is obvious from this source that not all the Reinoehls migrated west to Ohio and Indiana].

18. A Christopher Reinoehl, not one of his sons, was killed as a drummer boy in the Revolutionary War. He enlisted on 20 April 1776 in a Company organized by Peter Grubb, Jr.. The Company was in the 2nd Battalion of Col. Miles' Rifle Regiment, and participated during the disastrous battle of Long Island on 27 August 1776. The Second Battalion lost seven officers and 48 men killed or missing [Peter Reinoehl. p. 1; Pennsylvania Archives, State Capitol, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania; and Capt. H. M. M. Reinoehl.[19] The emigrant ancestor, George Henrich Reinoehl, is thought to have died in Lebanon Twp., Lancaster (now Lebanon) Co., Pennsylvania, in 1773.[20]

Lebanon Twp. was organized in 1729, contemporaneously with the creation of Lancaster County of which it was a part. It included all of the present territory of Lebanon County with the exception of Cold Spring and the mountains in the northern part, the greater part of Londonery in the southwest, and the southeastern corner. Parts of Lebanon Twp. were then carved off to form other townships in 1736-37. By a very complicated series of events, the remaining smaller portion of Lebanon Twp. was cut in two in 1739, and again in 1799. Today there are only North and South Lebanon Townships.[21]

The town of Lebanon was laid out by George Steitz in the year 1750. It was first called Steitztown, and some of the farmers in the surrounding country generally called it Steitza. By the time of the Revolutionary War it was of considerable size. John Penn, the grandson of William Penn, passed through the town of Lebanon on 10 April 1788, and he made the following comments, "On the eastern side of this is a most elegant new Lutheran church. On the western is a Calvinist's, called here, by way of distinction, a Presbyterian church. After riding through a village (Hebron) I came to Lebanon, a handsome town, containing some hundred inhabitants. This place is decorated by a spire, and the houses are well built, many of them of stone or brick."[22] During the 1790 Federal Census the town was enumerated with the county of Dauphin, in whose jurisdiction it was then located.[23] The population of the town in 1820 was 1,489; and the population of Lebanon township (consisting of what is now North and South Lebanon and Cornwall townships) was 3,044. Lebanon was incorporated into a borough on 20 February 1821.

Peter Reinoehl's grandfather was John Georg Henry (or in German, Heinrich) Reinöhl who was the second son of the emigrant and the second known Reinoehl of this line to be born in America on 29 June 1752, and he was baptized on 19 July 1752 in the Trinity Evangelical Church, New Holland in Lancaster (now Chester) Co., Pennsylvania.

The Rev. was the first minister of the Hill Lutheran Church, erected in 1733 about three miles northwest from the town of Lebanon [William M. Breslin, A History of Lebanon County Prior to 1876, Read before a crowd in Lehman's Grove on 4 July 1876, edited and revised by Ezra Grumbie (Mt. Zion, Pennsylvania: For the Lebanon Co. Hist. Society, 31 October. 1913, published as Vol. VI, No. 6.), p. 123].

20. Family Group Record submitted by Shirley Nadine Peterson Dunn about 1948 to the L.D.S. Church in Salt Lake City. The township and county names have been clarified to prevent confusion caused by the changes in the names of the townships and counties since his death. The location of his death is also supported by deduction from his presence as a sponsor of the baptism in 1765 of the children of Jacob Zieger of Lebanon, previously mentioned. A George Rinold (2, 6, 1, -,-), who was probably the immigrant's son, appears in the 1790 Federal Census of Lebanon Twp., Dauphin Co., Pennsylvania.

23. There were no Reinoehl names in all of the 1790 census; however, in addition to George Rinold in the town of Lebanon [p. 87], the names of Henry Rineholt (1,1,2,-, -); Henry Rinehold (2,1,3,-,-); and, Fred* Rineholt (1,3,3,-, -) appear in Cocalico Twp. of Lancaster Co..

His father was working as a smith the previous year in Conestoga.[24]

George Henry Reinoehl, the son, was a member of the German Salem Lutheran Church in the town of Lebanon as early as 1782.[25]

His entry in the 1790 Federal Census of Lebanon Town, Dauphin Co., appears as George Rinold (2,6,1,-,-); meaning, he had two Free White males over the age of 16, six Free White males under 16, one female, and no other Free persons or Slaves in the household. John Georg Heinrich Reinoehl married Anna Catharine Rider/Ritter on 27 December 1774 in the nearby Christian Lutheran Church at Stouchsburg, Marion Twp., Berks Co., Pennsylvania. The church records there state that they were both from Lebanon, and that she was the daughter of Michael Rider. Her burial record in the Salem Evangelical Church records in Lebanon Twp., Lebanon Co., Pennsylvania, states that she died of consumption on 15 October 1819 æ 65 years, 7 months, 6 days, and was buried on 17 September (sic, October) 1819. It also states she was born March 9, 1754 and was baptized and confirmed, and the wife of George Reinohl, nee Ritter, who had 15 children.[26]

25. The Salem (Lutheran) Church and Tabor (Reformed; i.e. Calvinist) Church were granted lots by George Steitz in 1760 on Hill Street in Lebanon. The first small log church was built by the Reformed people in 1762. In 1763 Rev. William Story became the pastor of the Reformed Church, remaining so until 1768. In 1763 occurred the financial downfall of George Steitz and the Lebanon Land Company was formed with Rev. John Casper Stoever as president. This same year Rev. Stoever presented Salem (Lutheran) Church with her deed at the annual ground rent of one red rose. Four months later Stoever & Co. executed a similar deed for the Reformed Church. In 1770 Peck and Chapman in London cast a bell, weighing about 1000 pounds, for the Lutheran Congregation in Lebanon. In 1772 the Salem congregation was embroiled in a great dispute. Old Pastor Stoever did not give perfect satisfaction in holding services. The younger and more progressive element of Old Salem had Frederick Augustus Muhlenberg come and preach. The Lutheran church was shut against him and he officiated at the Reformed Church, and the more progressive part of Salem's congregation worshiped there. The problems of Old Salem were finally settled in the Lutheran Synod, and a spirit of friendly rivalry existed. Rev. Muhlenberg became the pastor of the Old Salem Lutheran Church in 1773. In 1779, on Ascension Day, while Rev. John Caspar Stoever was performing a confirmation service in his home at Sunnyside, he suddenly was stricken with apoplexy, and his long and useful life and leadership to his community ceased. In 1794 Rev. George Lochman arrived from Philadelphia to become the pastor of the Lutheran church. A few years after the Salem church building was built. [Theodore E. Schmauk, The Early Churches of Lebanon County–An address Delivered at the Third Annual Banquet of the Lebanon County Historical Society on December 21, 1900, (Lebanon, Pennsylvania: The Century Printing Co., 1902), pp. 370-375].

26. Church records, p. 295, found in Salt Lake City by Shirley Dunn. Her probable brother was the Micael Riter who appears in the 1790 Federal Census of Lebanon Twp., Dauphin Co., Pennsylvania with (1,2,2,-,-). The baptism of a Michael Ritter's daughter, Anna Catharine, on 17 Feb. 1784 at the Salem Lutheran Church in Lebanon was witnessed by George Reinoehl. On 14 March 1748, Rev. John Caspar Stoever baptized a Catarina Ritter (b. 10 March. 1748), the dau. of Joseph Ritter of Earl Town in Southeastern Pennsylvania [Stoever Records, p. 33]. The principal stronghold of the Ritter families in Germany seems to have been the Palatinate, as nearly all the Ritter emigrants to America came from there (See the sidebar on the Origins of the Ritter Families). There were many of her probable Riter/Ritter relatives later living in Wayne, Stark, and Tuscarawas Counties, Ohio, who appear in the 1840 Federal Census.

George Henry Reinoehl owned nearly all of the town lots in southern Lebanon, which were divided at his death on 19 October 1832 among his 15 children – 14 sons and one daughter.[27] As of 1950 there still existed a little town of Reinoehl; and within the city limits of Lebanon there is still a Reinoeldville [sic, Reinoehlsville] named for land purchased by a Reinoehl from the Eustons.

Catherine (Fisher) Reinoehl (1787-1867) wife of John Michael Reinoehl and their daughter, Margaret Rebecca (Reinoehl) Weirick (1816-1903).

Peter's father was John Michael Reinoehl, the third son of George Henry and Anna Catharine (Rider/Ritter) Reinoehl, II. Michael, as he was called, was born on 19 December 1777 in Lebanon Twp., now in Lebanon Co., Pennsylvania. On 4 May 1806 Michael married Sara Catherine "Catarina" Fisher in Lebanon Twp., now Lebanon Co., Pennsylvania. She was born there on 9 July 1787, the daughter of Peter and Sarah Fisher.[28] Peter Fisher also appears with his family (1, 1, 3,-,-) in the 1790 Federal Census of Lebanon Twp., Dauphin Co., Pennsylvania. Catherine's picture, at a very senior age, appears on page 5 of copy 151 of 160 copies printed circa 1971 of The Joseph and Margaret Weirick Family History found in the Canton, Ohio Public Library by Kenneth R. Heimberger of Route 2, Loudonville, Ohio 44842. She is a very short woman shown next to her daughter, Margaret Rebecca (Reinoehl) Weirick.[29]

Michael appears as Michael Reinhold on page 71 of the 1820 Federal Census in Lebanon Twp., Lebanon Co., Pennsylvania. The name of Michael Reinoehl appears on the 1828 personal property tax list of Sugar Creek Twp., Stark Co.,

27. Peter Reinoehl. Only ten of the children's names are known (See his FGR).

28. Her birth & baptism dates are recorded in the Salem Lutheran Ch. records, p. 27. She was baptized as "Sara" Fisher and her parents were Peter and M(arie) Sara Fisher. She was later called Catarina. A Peter Fisher appears in the 1790 Federal Census of Lebanon Twp., then in Dauphin (now Lebanon) Co., Pennsylvania, with one male under 16 and three white females. This was the same page (87) as George Rinold and several Weirick families. The 1885 DeKalb Co. History has three accounts of her name spelled as Fisher. There are several Fisher families who settled in Stark County, Ohio. A Hans Jerg Fischer (b. 1702) of Neckartailfingen, Württemberg, Germany, the son of Ludwig and Christina Catharine (Fuchs) Fischer of Marbagh, emigrated to Pennsylvania in 1749. He traveled on the ship, Leslie, arriving on 7 October. 1749. He had a son, Johannes Fischer, b. 11-3-1735; and, Maria Catharine Fischer, b. 3-18-1738. According to the record of his pastor, Hans Jerg Fischer, "Went to Pennsylvania, April 30, 1749; he was much given to stealing." His niece was Juliana Fischer, who had an illegitimate daughter, Maria Agnes Fischer, also, "Went to Pennsylvania, 1752." [Immigrants, pp. 30 & 54]. A Johannes Fischer (b. 14 October. 1759), the son of Peter Fischer of Lebanon, was baptized by Rev. John Caspar Stoever on 11 November. 1759. A John Jacob Fischer (b. 5 November. 1765)), the son of Peter Fischer of Lebanon, was also baptized by him on 5 November. 1766 [Stoever Records, p. 49].

29. According to a tribute to the memory of Margaret Rebecca Reinoehl, Weirick in Kenneth R. Heimberger, The Joseph and Margaret Weirick Family History, on p. 4, found in the Stark Co. Library at Canton: Margaret Rebecca (Reinoehl) Weirick was born December 23, 1816, in Lebanon County, Pennsylvania. She was the fifth daughter of (John) Michael and Catherine Reinoehl, and lived with her parents in Pennsylvania until the year 1830, when the family moved to West Lebanon, Stark (sic, Wayne) County, Ohio. Having moved to the Ohio home by the old-fashioned way, the Reinoahl (sic) family was accompanied on their journey by the old families of Henry Weirick, Henry Delears, and a few others, all sharing each other's hardships and joys. Here in West Lebanon Mother Weirick (sic, Reinoehl) was married to Joseph Weirick on October 19, 1834, and they lived there for a few years and then moved further west...

Ohio, where he was taxed on the five horses he owned at a value of $200.[30] Michael Reinoehl appears in successive personal property tax lists of Sugar Creek Twp. In the 1830 list he was first shown as owning 160 acres of real estate, valued at $520. This was the NW corner of Section 5 in Range 10, Township 11. This is in the very NW corner of Sugar Creek Twp., adjacent to Tuscarawas Twp. and the Wayne County border. The real estate property is located west of the the post office town of Navarre on the Elton Road, west of Alabama Avenue, about two miles east of the German descendants' community of West Lebanon, Wayne County, Ohio. It is probably the property owned in 1996 by Mr. R. G. Hostetler at 15175 Elton Rd., SW.. The land is hilly and heavily wooded, and known today as dairy cattle country. It is very near present-day Amish communities in Wayne County, where farming is still done by horse and wagon methods. Michael's name appears on the Sugar Creek Twp. Tax Lists as owning 160 acres in NW Section 5, Range 10, Township 11, through the year 1838, when another Reinoehl name (J. Michael) also is shown owning 45 acres, valued at $159, in the corner of Section 29, Range 10, Township 11 in Sugar Creek Twp., Stark Co., Ohio. The year 1838 appears to have been the last year the Tax Lists are available in the library's microfilm file.

Map of Stark County Ohio, published by Williams Dorr & Co., 1855, found in the Stark Co. Library. M. Reinoehl is shown at the NW corner of Stark township adjacent to the Wayne Co, boundary.

30. Tax List for Stark Co., Ohio found in the county library in Canton, Ohio. Undated letter, post marked 29 August 1927, from Frank P. Seiler, a Co-Op Real Estate Merchant of Auburn, Indiana, to Mary Ellen Reinoehl McGiffin. Frank Seiler was no doubt descended from John Seiler who married Peter's sister, Lucetta Reinoehl.

There are, however, no Reinoehl names indexed anywhere in the 1830 Federal Census of Ohio, which is consistent with the information quoted in a previous footnote about the Joseph and Margaret (Reinoehl) Weirick Family History.[31] He does appear in the 1840 Federal Census in Tuscarawas Twp., Stark Co., Ohio, as Michael Reinhohl. Other Reinohls appeared in the same county in the same census: Henry Reinohl also in Tuscarawas Twp.; George and Henry in Lawrence Twp.; David in Sugar Creek Twp.; and Solomon in Brookfield.[32] Michael Reinoehl is shown as M. Reinoehl in the NW corner of present-day Sugar Creek Twp. on the 1855 property record map of Stark Co. Ohio.[33]

From census information, marriage records and tombstone inscriptions, it is apparent that at least three of Michael Reinoehl's younger brothers moved to Stark Co., Ohio, about 1831: Henry; John; and Philip Reinoehl. John Reinoehl later moved to Pine Grove, Schuylkill Co., Pennsylvania; and Philip Reinoehl later moved to New Hebron, Crawford Co., Illinois. That town was no doubt named after Hebron, one mile outside the town of Lebanon, Pennsylvania, which was the location of the Moravian Church.

31. He could have been the Michael Rinehart who appears in the 1830 Federal Census of Sugar Creek Twp., in adjacent Tuscarawas County, Ohio, on p. 74, close to Jacob (p. 79) and John Rinehart (p. 79). There were no Rinehart entries in Stark Co. in 1830. There is a biography of a John W(illiam) Reinoehl (b. 10 Jan. 1842 in Tuscarawas Twp., Stark Co.- d. there in 1919) who was the son of William Reinoehl (1805-1873), who married Louisa Bowman (1810-1891). It states that William was a native of Lebanon Co., Pennsylvania, who emigrated with his parents "and other members of his family," to Stark Co, Ohio, in 1831, and located in Lawrence Twp. until 1854. William was the son of Michael's younger brother, Henry Reinoehl (b. 1779, who joined the Salem Lutheran Church in Lebanon in 1795) who married Magdalena Laudermilch. On 6 June 1867 John W. Reinoehl married Susan Groff (born in Lancaster Co., Pennsylvania on 7 June 1843 and died in 1906). She was the dau. of Benjamin and Anne Groff. John and Susan, who lived on a 196 acre estate, had four children: Emma; Edwin E. (1868-1945) married Susie Berg (1870-1942); Ella (1876-1941) married H. Wallace Smith; and, Elmer F. Reinoehl (1879-1933) married Effie Mae Moth. John was a veteran of the Civil War, enlisting in August 1862 in Company E. of the One Hundred and Fourth Ohio Infantry. He fought under Gens. Gilmore, Burnside and Schofield. He participated in the first battle of Knoxville, and at the fight at Franklin where he received a fractured skull, requiring three months of hospitalization. He mustered out in June 1865 at Columbus, Ohio. [Portrait and Biographical Record of Stark County, Ohio, (Chicago: Chapman Bros., 1892), p. 391]. Most of these Reinoehls are buried in Brookfield Cem. #20 in Tuscarawas Twp., Stark Co., Ohio [Cemetery Inscriptions Stark County, Ohio, Vol. III, p. 7.] John (George) Reinoehl, another son of Henry and Magdalena Reinoehl, was also buried in the Trinity Lutheran Cemetery #150 in Tuscarawas Twp., Stark Co., which was paved over. His tombstone read, John Reinoehl, d. September. 24 1857, age 41-7-29, which equates to a birth date of 26 Jan. 1816.

32. A Henry Reinoehl (d. of heart disease on 9 March 1877 æ 63-2-10 in Lawrence Twp., Stark Co., Ohio, who was a native of Lebanon Twp. Lebanon Co., Pennsylvania, and an early settler in Lawrence Twp., Stark Co., Ohio. He married a Susan and they had at least one son, Samuel (b. in Stark Co. on 23 September 1848-d. in Tuscarawas Twp., Stark Co. on 5 September. 1890). On 4 Jan. 1875 Samuel married Jennie Raber, born 11 Dec. 1852, the dau. of John and Margaret Raber. Samuel and Jennie Reinoehl lived on a 160 acre farm in Tuscarawas Twp.. They had three children: Della M.; Vinnie I.; and Samuel R. Reinoehl [Portrait and Biographical Record of Stark County, Ohio,... (Chicago: Chapman Bros., 1892), p. 387, with photo]. Solomon and Eliza (Kreiling) Reinoehl had a son, Solomon, who was b. in Tuscarawas Twp., Stark Co., Ohio, and died of consumption in W. Brookfield, Tuscarawas Twp., Stark Co., Ohio, on 10 February 1890, æ 77-4-12. He was a mason. [Stark County, Ohio Death Records, Stark County Chapter, The Ohio Genealogical Society, 1991, pp. 392-3].

33. Map of Stark County Ohio, published by Williams Dorr & Co., 1855, found in the Stark Co. Library at Canton. S. Reinoehl is also shown in Tuscarawas Twp., Stark Co., SW of Massillon.

The Moravian Church is a Protestant communion closely linked to Lutheranism. It has its roots in the Czech Reformation. The Moravians were pioneers in Protestant home and foreign missions, seeking renewal of European Christianity and evangelization of the non-Christian world. Moravianism is basically presbyterian in structure. [34]

Michael Reinoehl and his wife, Catherine Fischer, had nine children, all of whom except for Peter, were born in Lebanon Twp. of Lebanon Co., Pennsylvania (See Family Group Records at the end). It would appear that Michael traveled back and forth to Sugar Creek Twp. in Stark County, Ohio, as early as 1828, when and where he was taxed on the horses he owned. In 1830, prior to the birth of Peter Reinoehl in 1831, Michael moved his family to that township from Lebanon County, Pennsylvania. Michael and his family members were no doubt also members of the nearby Evangelical Lutheran Church in West Lebanon, Wayne County, Ohio. Peter Reinoehl, who was the youngest, therefore had to have been born in Sugar Creek Twp., Stark Co., Ohio. Michael died there on 29 October 1858. Michael is buried in the Evangelical Lutheran Cemetery in West Lebanon, Paint Twp., Wayne Co., Ohio. This is the adjacent county, about three miles west of where he lived in Stark Co., Ohio.[35] The author found and photographed his grave and broken tombstone during a visit to the cemetery on 11 June 1994. His tombstone reads: Michael Reinoehl Died Sept-29-1858, Aged 81 Yrs - 9 Months -10 Days. He is buried next to his daughter-in-law, Sarah Ann (Sides) Reinoehl, Peter's first wife, who died on 5 September 1863. Her son, probably stillborn, is buried on the other side of her.

34. The New Grolier Electronic Encyclopedia, 1990. In the year 1748 the Moravian cemetery was laid out in Hebron, in what is now Lebanon Twp; Bishop Cammerhof journeyed through Lebanon, Pennsylvania; and, the Moravian Synod held its first gathering in a Lutheran church. In 1749, the year of arrival of the emigrant Reinoehl, the stone Moravian meeting-house was erected in Hebron (prior to that Moravian communion was held in the Lutheran church on ground donated by Peter Kucher [The Early Churches of Lebanon, p. 369].

35. Wayne County Burial Records, published by the Genealogical Section of the Wayne County Historical Society, 1975 (found in the Stark Co. Library, Canton, Ohio, R 929.3771 W359w21). The church records of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in Paint Twp., Wayne County, Ohio, go back to 1832, the church being built many years prior to this date. The original membership of about twelve families were mostly Pennsylvania Germans [History of Wayne County, p. 591]. The Evangelical Lutheran Church in West Lebanon of Paint Twp. was built in 1831 (the year of Peter Reinoehl's birth) and prior to this there existed no organization. It was erected under the auspices of the Lutheran and Reformed bodies. The first minister was John Reck*; first members* Mathais Siler, Philip Reihnole (sic, Reinoehl), Peter Shilling, Philip Sidle*, etc. ...* [ibid., p. 593, bold emphasis added]. The church building no longer exists.

Weirich/Weirick Family Connection

Several members of the Weirich and Reinoehl families intermarried, so it is important to digress and include some of the history of the Weirich (or Weirick, as some members prefer) families.

The first Weirich in America came from Germany in about the year 1708 and settled near Lebanon, Pennsylvania. A Johan Jacob Weirich arrived in Philadelphia on 11 August 1750 aboard the ship Patience, with Hugh Steel, Captain, from Rotterdam, last from Cowes, England.[44] The John Weirich, who married Elizabeth Rupe, was either a grandson, or great grandson, of the immigrant Weirich.[45] John and Elizabeth (Rupp) Weirich moved to Wooster, Wayne County, Ohio, in 1830. They had twelve children, many of whom married children of John Michael Reinoehl or his brothers, John and Philip:

i. Joseph Weirich (19 March 1811 in Lebanon Co., Pennsylvania - 24 February 1894 in Green Twp., Ashland Co., Ohio) married on 19 October 1834 in West Lebanon, Wayne Co., Ohio, Margaret Rebecca Reinoehl (23 December 1816 in Lebanon Co., Pennsylvania - 14 November 1903, the daughter of John Michael and Catherine (Fischer) Reinoehl (See Kenneth R. Heimberger, The Joseph and Margaret Weirick Family History found in the Stark Co. Library at Canton). They had children: Ralph; a daughter who married Edward Zeibell; and, a daughter who married Henry Bethbarger.

ii. Rebecca Weirich (9 August 1812 in Lebanon Co., Pennsylvania - 31 January 1895 in Fairfield Twp., DeKalb County, Indiana) married 18 December 1831 in Wayne Co., Ohio, David Reinoehl (23 February 1809 in Lebanon Co., Pennsylvania - 16 February 1869 in Fairfield Twp. DeKalb, Indiana), the eldest son of John Michael and Catherine (Fischer) Reinoehl (See FGR). He was no doubt the David Reinoehl in Sugar Creek Twp. of Stark Co. in the 1840 Federal Census. They had seven children.[46]

iii. Nancy Weirich (16 February 1814-1 April 1897) married John Hovarter on 4 December 1834

Out of 412 who embarked only 180 survived to land in Philadelphia, and many of those died soon after arrival. Rupp and others were exposed at auction, as Redemptioners. He was bought by Leonard Umberger, who owned a farm near Lebanon, where Rupp worked for two years and six months to pay off his passage fare. When his term expired, he married the step-daughter of Mr. Umberger, – a Miss Elizabeth Burst, whose father had died in 1741, and her mother Barbara Burst, the widow of Michael Burst who had then married Leonard Umberger. Jonas Rupp and his wife settled a few miles south of Millerstown. In 1771 he sold his tract and moved to Cumberland, where he settled among the "Scotch-Irish." He died there at an advanced age in 1801 [I. Daniel Rupp, History of the Counties of Berks and Lebanon: Containing a Brief Account of the Indians..., (Lancaster Co., Pennsylvania: G. Hills, Proprietor, 1844), pp. 93-94]. There were four possible Weirich relatives enumerated in the town of Lebanon, Dauphin Co., Pennsylvania in the 1790 Federal Census: Jacob Wyrich (2,3,5,-,-); Nicholas Wirich (1,2,1,-,-); and two Peter Wirick with (1,-,3,-,-).

The Origins of the Ritter Family Name

The name means a knight, and originated during the Middle Ages. When the Crusades were formed to redeem the Holy Land, a society was formed in Central Europe that was called die Ritterschaft, that is Knighthood. The society was made up of many people of rank as well as the middle and lower classes. In time the society became corrupt and was disbanded. The people had no surnames yet, but began to assume them; and many who had belonged to this society assumed the name of Ritter. Thus in a short time many Ritter families were brought into being. Their principal stronghold seems to have been the Palatinate, as nearly all the emigrants to America came from that region. Emigration began during the middle of the eighteenth century.[49] Most of them sailed from Rotterdam, and one of the port entries was for: Casper Ritter, b. in 1717, who landed at Philadelphia, Pennsylvania from Zweibrücken, Germany. He married on 11 September 1732 an Anna Maria ____. Their children were: Caspar Jr. - 1747; Michael - 1747; Susanna - 1751; Anna Catharine - 1754; and Maria Ritter - 1755.[50] This book is primarily concerned with Peter's maternal grandmother, Anna Catharine Rider/Ritter, who married John George Henry (or in German, Heinrich) Reinoehl on 27 December 1774 in the Christian Lutheran Church at Stouchsburg, now in Marion Twp., Berks Co., Pennsylvania. The church records state that they were both from Lebanon, and that she was the daughter of "Michael Rider"(sic). Her burial record in the Salem Evangelical Church records in Lebanon Twp., Lebanon Co., Pennsylvania, states that she was born March 9, 1754 and was baptized and confirmed, the wife of George Reinohl, nee Ritter, who had 15 children. The baptism of a Michael Ritter's daughter, Anna Catharine, on 17 Feb. 1784 at the Salem Lutheran Church in Lebanon was witnessed by a George Reinoehl. It would therefore appear that Anna Catharine Rider/Ritter was the granddaughter of Casper Ritter, b. in 1717, in Zweibrücken, Pfälz, Germany.

Descendants of Peter and Elizabeth (Hovarter) Reinoehl

Listing 519 descendants in seven generations

First Generation

(1) Peter Reinoehl was born on 23 February 1831 in Sugar Creek Twp., Stark County, Ohio, just after the family arrived in 1830. The location was no doubt his father's 160 acre farm in the NW corner of Section 5, Range 10, Township 11, just west of Navarre, where his father, Michael Reinoehl, appeared in the 1840 Federal Census.[51] Peter married Sarah Ann Sides on 8 September 1856 probably in the nearby Evangelical Lutheran Church in West Lebanon, Wayne Co., Ohio. She was born in Pennsylvania, possibly the daughter of Joseph Sides who appears in the 1850 Federal Census of Sugar Creek Twp., Stark Co., Ohio.[52] Peter and Sarah Ann lived on his father's acre farm until her death on 5 September 1863, æ 24 years-8 months-28 days. She is buried in the Evangelical Lutheran Cemetery in West Lebanon, Wayne Co., Ohio. They had no surviving children, but a son is buried next to her grave with the name and date no longer readable. No doubt they both died as a result of childbirth. Peter's father, Michael Reinoehl is buried on the other side of her. His tombstone had fallen over.

In November 1863 Peter left Stark Co., Ohio, and followed two of his brothers to Fairfield Twp., DeKalb Co., Indiana.[53] There he met Elizabeth Hovarter and on 10 January 1867 in Fairfield Twp., DeKalb Co., Indiana, Rev. W. Waltman married Peter and Elizabeth. She was born on 25 December 1846 in Sugar Creek Twp., Wayne Co., Ohio, the daughter of John and Nancy (Weirich) Hovarter.[54] John Hovarter died on 25 June 1889, age 80 years, 7 months, and 22 days. Nancy Weirich was the daughter of John and Elizabeth (Rupe) Weirich, who moved from Lebanon, Pennsylvania, to the vicinity of West Lebanon, Wayne Co., Ohio, in 1830. Nancy died on 1 April 1897 at 83 years, 1 month, and 15 days.

Peter bought 40 acres of land of which 25 were partially cleared. He afterwards bought 35 acres adjoining it on the south, which he sold, and bought 80 acres adjoining his farm on the north. He

51. Peter's cousin, William Reinoehl (1805-1873), migrated to Stark Co. with William's parents, Henry and Magdalena Reinoehl, and other members of his family in 1831! William Reinoehl and many of his descendants are buried in the Brookfield Cemetery #20 at the dead end of Schaffer St., 0.1 miles east of 32nd St. N.W. out of Massillion. There are a few Reinoehl family members buried in the Trinity Lutheran Cem. that was at the rear of the Church at 3081 Lincoln Way, West, which has been paved over for a parking lot. There are a few also buried in St. Jacob's Lutheran Cemetery, Mud Brook Church, in nearby Jackson Twp., and in Union Cemetery #3 in the N.W. part of Canal Fulton at Market St. & Elm St. N.W. in Lawrence Twp. of Stark Co., Ohio. Chapter, The Ohio Genealogical Society, 15 February. 1983; and, Esther Weygandt Powell, Stark County, Ohio Early Church Records and Cemeteries, 36 North Highland Ave., Akron, Ohio 44303, 1973. Esther Weygandt Powell tried unsuccessfully to save the cemeteries]

52. For some unknown reason there are no Reinoehls indexed in the 1850 Federal Census of Ohio, but both Peter and Sarah Reinoehl, and Peter's mother, Catherine Reinoehl, appear on p. 7 of the 1860 Federal Census of Sugar Creek Twp., Stark Co., Ohio, taken on 8 June 1860. They were in dwellings #47 and 49. Peter is listed age 29 born in Ohio, and his wife, Sarah, is 27, born in Pennsylvania. They have 800 acres valued at $7000. Catherine Reinoehl is listed by herself, age 74, born in Pennsylvania.

53. History of DeKalb County, pp. 581-582. Peter's eldest brother, David and Rebecca (Weirich) Reinoehl, in 1840 moved from the old homestead in Stark Co. to Richland Co., Ohio, where they lived until the fall of 1852 when they moved to an unimproved farm of 152 acres about three miles northeast of Corunna in Fairfield Twp., DeKalb Co., Indiana.. Michael Reinoehl, the eighth of nine children of Michael and Catherine (Fischer) Reinoehl, lived on the Stark Co. homestead until the fall of 1856, when he also moved to DeKalb Co., Indiana.

finally owned 120 acres of valuable, well improved land. Peter and Elizabeth lived in a log house south of Helmer in DeKalb Co., Indiana. It was just south of the farm which was the residence of Ora Smith in 1973. They later owned a large farm of 120 acres to the north. At least their older children were born in the log house. They had thirteen children, one of whom, Elizabeth Ann, died in infancy. Peter had a good common (grade or elementary) school education. Elizabeth died on 6 February 1899 at Fairfield Twp., DeKalb Co., Indiana. She was buried there on 9 February 1899. Peter died on 10 May 1913 of organic heart disease at Fairfield Twp., DeKalb Co., Indiana.[55] They are both buried in Fairfield Cemetery, Fairfield Twp., DeKalb Co., Indiana.

A family group photo of many of his descendants and their spouses was taken in front of his house on 13 May 1913, the day of Peter's funeral and burial with Rev. Harrison Elson presiding. His third eldest son Albert and daughter, Elizabeth Ann, had unfortunately pre-deceased him.

(4) Mary Ellen Reinoehl (Peter[1]) was born on 16 February 1871 near Corunna, DeKalb Co., Indiana. She attended a country school which she loved through the fifth grade. "When she was 12 she had to leave school to help her mother with housework and care for brothers and sisters who arrived –about one a year– until there were nine younger than she, the oldest girl. All her life she remembered things she had learned at school and enjoyed, especially songs sung as part of 'opening exercise.' Some of these she hummed as she worked. Her favorite, The Froggies Song, she sang to all her children and grandchildren and, occasionally, at a family reunion."[59] When she was about 70 she dictated the words to all three stanzas to her daughter Vida B. McGiffin, who called it a "little legacy." Mary Ellen married William Hudson McGiffin on 18 January 1894 in DeKalb Co., Indiana. He died on 13 September 1923. They lived on their 170 acre farm north of Corunna, Indiana, until the spring of 1930, when she moved to Kendallville, Noble Co., Indiana, where she died on 26 April 1946. She is buried in the Fairfield Cemetery, DeKalb Co., Indiana. Her family had at one time the wooden chest, said to have been made in England, used during the voyage of the emigrant Reinoehl to America. The chest was later in the family of Henry "Hank" S. Reinoehl (18).

Children born near Corunna, Fairfield Twp., DeKalb Co., Indiana:

25 i Vida Blanche McGiffin was born on 18 October 1894. She corresponded with most of the living descendants of Peter Reinoehl in 1974 and helped to prepare his genealogy and family records. She last lived at her niece's home at 761 Camino Real West, Royal Oak Hills, Boca Raton, FL 33432. She became incapacitated but was very coherent on 11 February 1990 when she was visited by Paul Eugene Reinoehl. She died 30 June 1991 in Sarasota County, Florida. Her remains were cremated and placed without a headstone, as was her wish, between her parents in the Fairfield Cemetery by Paul Eugene Reinoehl and Virginia Conrad Kent.

26+ ii Lottie Anita McGiffin was born on 18 April 1896.

27 iii Chester William "C. W." "Bill" McGiffin was born on 15 October 1897. In 1927 he did research into the Reinoehl ancestry. Those who knew him state that he was an interesting character. He was very intelligent, but kind of fooled his life away in relation to his potential. If anyone challenged him on the Bible or World History they soon found it to be a mistake because he knew far more on these subjects than most. A neighbor who grew up and played with Bill summed it up when he said, "anything Bill McGiffin reads from that day on he can quote – read and quote is all he is good for and he ain't worth a damn for anything else."[60] He died on 23 December 1974 in DeKalb Co., Indiana, and is buried in the Fairfield Cemetery.

28+ iv John Kenneth McGiffin was born on 6 December 1903.

29 v Ruth Aileen McGiffin was born on 29 October 1907. She died on 8 September 1908 in DeKalb Co., Indiana, and is buried in the Fairfield Cemetery.

(5) Albert "Al" Reinoehl (Peter[1]) was born on 13 May 1872 at Corunna, DeKalb Co., Indiana. He died at 1 a.m. on 25 October 1911 at Chicago Junction, later called Willard, Huron Co., Ohio, of carcinoma of the stomach, a type of cancer.[61] He was buried in the Fairfield Cemetery, Corunna, DeKalb Co., Indiana. He was described as a short, heavy set man with very large shoulders. Albert was considered by his brothers to be "King" of his brothers as far as scrapping with them and others was concerned. At a gathering a friend told Al that a man named Casselman had stolen a whip. Al approached the man while he was sitting in his buggy and asked, "Where did you get that whip?" Casselman gave a 'smart' answer and Al grabbed him, jerked him out of the buggy, and took it 'out of his hide' then and there. It would seem that although the conversation was short the point was well made. Al then took the whip and gave it to its rightful owner.[62] He married Ada Blanche McClish on 25 December 1894 at Fairfield Twp., DeKalb Co., Indiana. On their marriage license which was applied for in Auburn, DeKalb Co., he described himself as a farmer and railroader.[63] She was born on 2 April 1877 in Franklin Twp., DeKalb, Indiana, the daughter of Samuel (February 1840, Carrol Co., Ohio-1927) and Sophia (Cole)(1843-1936) McClish.[64] Albert was the rural postal carrier and later an engineer on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad on the line from Garrett, Indiana, through Chicago Junction (Willard), Ohio, to Chicago. He had his foot smashed and lost his leg in a railroad accident, and received about $3000 in claim money. On 29 May 1905 he used $2450 of it to buy a 40 acre farm about two miles north of Helmer in Steuben County, Indiana.[65] He died of an intestinal disorder (carcinoma) which caused him to vomit every time he ate or drank. His brother, John Henry Reinoehl, felt that Al suffered a serious injury in a very physical fight with a man named West who threw Al over his back onto the ground. His brother felt that the injury was a contributing factor in his early death. After his death, the family entered rough financial times and on 4 January 1913 his widow sold the family farm in Steuben County, Indiana, for $2700.[66] On 7 February 1913 she bought town lots 12 and 13 in block number 11, and probably a house, in Ashley, Steuben Co., Indiana, for $725 from the heirs of William M. and Ida M. Town, deceased.[67] In the summer of 1914 the mother, on the advice of Ada's sister Grace who lived in Ft. Wayne, moved the family to a house on Dawson Street in Ft. Wayne, Indiana, near the Edison "lamp works" which later became the General Electric plant. The family suffered financial hardships and the three eldest daughters had to work in the nearby dark and dreary "lamp works" where electric light bulbs were manufactured. At the time of their first

Bessie Irene Reinoehl
100th Birthday Celebration

The party was well attended by many of her descendants and relatives. She told us her doctor and dentist wanted to 'show her off' on a world tour. Her dentist was especially proud that she had only lost one of her natural teeth! During a visit to the hospital to receive an inoculation for a pain in a joint she was angry that they made her use a wheel chair. She said, "Can you imagine, they put ME in a wheelchair!" During a discussion with some of us she did confess that she was a life long Democrat!

90. It was very interesting to learn from the librarian in the Lebanon County Historical Society library that there was a tradition of naming these early German Lutheran children at birth with an extra first name, usually Johan (John), that was omitted (dropped) at baptism to confuse the Devil. The child then grew-up using the second, and not the first, given name.

91. Lebanon County was created in 1813 from parts of Dauphin and Lancaster Counties. The major part came from Dauphin Co.: Lebanon Twp. no longer exists. It was divided in 1840 into Lebanon City; North Lebanon Twp.; and South Lebanon Twp.. In 1888 West Lebanon Twp. was created from part of North Lebanon Twp.. Dauphin Co. was created from part of Lancaster County in 1785. The death records of Peter Reinoehl in DeKalb Co. Health Department incorrectly state that Michael Reinoehl was born in Ohio.

98. In the book Old Salem in Lebanon, Rev. G. F. Krotel in June 1849 recalled his first impressions of George Henry Reinoehl, 3rd, the immigrant's grandson, upon the reverend becoming pastor of his church. "I distinctly remember my impression of him. A venerable friend in the ministry received a letter, inquiring after me, in regard to a vacancy in the congregation of which Father George (Reinoehl) was the principal man. I was young then, and I read that letter over and over again; it was a very simple, earnest letter, signed by Father George... The letter was evidently written by a man of education and good common sense. After a week ride I arrived, and soon found myself hospitably at home in comfortable quarters, not however the house of Father George... Father George was expected to come before church to escort me thither. ...My principal man was aged some seventy years; he wore an old suit that had not the fashionable color, not the fashionable cut, but had evidently been made when I was a baby. His hat was broader at top than near the rim, he wore thick, heavy boots. He had an old cotton umbrella under his arm, which I did not consider needful at all, for his hat and coat would not have been injured by the most violent rain, nor permitted any to reach his skin. He wore a large pair of colored spectacles, which at first concealed his eyes. He greeted me with an old-fashioned bow, and a vice-like grip of the hand, and entered at once into conversation. As I looked more closely at his face, I considered it one of the most benevolent that I had ever seen. His eyes sparkled with the light of intelligence and good nature, and before I went to church I felt as if I had known him for years." [Theodore E. Schmauk, Old Salem in Lebanon - A History of the Congregation and Town (Lebanon, Penn.: Published For the Congregation in Commemoration of the Celebration of the Centennial of the Church Building, 1898), pp. 188-190].

Reading This Section

If, while reading the following pages of this section, the reader will keep these few facts in mind, a much clearer understanding of the contents will result. The format or style used so far in this book is known as the Modified Register System, which has been refined by the National Genealogical Society.

Three types of numbers are used: one to uniquely identify the individual, one to indicate the generation into which that person falls, and one to denote his or her birth-order within the nuclear family. The identification numbering system used in this ancestry section is called The Ahnentafel System. The father's ID number is twice the child's number and the mother's ID number is twice the child's number plus one. Only the direct line is numbered. The child's siblings are listed, but not numbered. The ID numbers used do not correspond to those used in earlier parts of the book, except when shown enclosed in parenthesis.

When an individual is introduced in his/her separate sketch, the name appears in boldface letters. The name is preceded by the identification number. The last given name is followed immediately by a superscript number indicating the number of generations from the starting individual in this book. It was very interesting to learn from the librarian in the Lebanon County Historical Society library that there was a tradition of naming these early German Lutheran children at birth with an extra first name, usually Johan (John), that was omitted(dropped) at baptism to confuse the Devil. The child then grew-up using the second, and not the first, given name.

When the list of children is presented, the ID number is printed, followed by a small roman numeral in front of the name designates birth-order. Next the name is followed by the birth and death dates. The spouse and notes will be listed for children who are not the direct ancestor or who had no children.

The term "Spouse" may have several different meanings: husband, wife, partner, mate, parent, or significant other. The couple involved may not be legally married. The term "stepchild" may have several different meanings: the child may be a stepchild, adopted child, foster child, or just raised in the home. If there are any other children of the spouse, they will be designated as stepchildren.

The index is arranged alphabetically by surname. Under each surname, the given names are alphabetically arranged. The name is followed in some cases by the year of birth and death in square brackets. The number to the right indicates the page where this name appears. The wife appears under her maiden name and under her married names with her maiden name in parentheses.
